

Subject: Permission to use a link to the YouTube video with words to the Last Post

Message: Hello, My name is Chris. I live in Lincolnshire. I attend All Saints Church, Nettleham where I act as the webmaster for the church website (<https://www.asn.church/>).

I have watched the above video which was produced by your church in 2018. This is a piece of music I love as I am passionate about all things military. The video is amazing and the words are so poignant.

I am busy preparing draft pages for the website for special services for the next few months.

I want to ask permission to put a link for this video for the Remembrance Sunday service page. Many thanks in anticipation of your help in this matter.

Kind regards & God's Blessings Chris.

---

Reply from Rory McClure

"You said you were interested in using my video and poem "Words for the Last Post (Shall we forget?)". I'd be glad to give you permission to use the video on your website" (Rory McClure (writer of the words and the video) and Pastor of Parkside Evangelical Church, Littlehampton.